Re-Appraisals Feared, Hailed

By NORMAN COLBY

Property re-appraisal, dreaded by some residents, Messianically praised by others, is coming to the central county communities, including Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek, Lafayette and Orinda.

About 45 appraisers are working their way through the Mt. Diablo Unified School District area, and have started on commercial and residential property in the Walnut Creek School District boundaries.

They will be finished in the Mt. Diablo area and Pleasant Hill in time for inclusion of their new valuations in 1959-60 county budget tax calculations.

THE WORK WILL take from six months to a year in Walnut Creek.

Appraisers will move into Lafayette and Orinda probably next year.

Re-appraising is a slow and detailed process.

The program has been undertaken on an overall basis for the first time in the country's history. It has been advocated for years by County Assessor C. L. Dunklee. Only this year has his department been allocated enough additional staff members to do the job.

THEY HAVE completed their tasks in Antioch, Pittsburg and other eastern county areas.

Few commercial property owners, especially those who have been holding empty lots for years and waiting as the values go up and up, have had any complaints about the past failure of the county to re-appraise.

Also, many homeowners have not been eager for re-appraisal, and have expressed apprehension that their home values will be "upgraded." They fear higher taxes, although this is not necessarily true, even where the new appraisal is higher. Many re-appraisals will probably be lower, say the experts.

Happiest, it appears, are the civic leaders who for years have been working for the commercial and "light" industrialization of the area, and a resulting broader tax base.

FOR YEARS they have seen industry representatives, at first interested in local land, turn to other areas when the price suddenly and mysteriously skyrockets.

With their land listed by the county (which provides the cities with figures) at far below the "market value," and resulting taxes far below what they should be, owners could well afford to "wait and see," even through the offered price was more than fair.

And the mighty tax burden continued to grind upon the hapless homeowner, in the absence of any other alternative.

The re-appraisal program should change all that.

Early last year, Dunklee told members of the Pleasant Hill Civic Council, who had expressed anger about the situation, that re-appraisal was on the way.

Now that it is here, ne will be asked to outline the program at the September meeting of the Council.

RALPH BECKER, the Council's Planning and Zoning Committee chairman, earlier called the assesments, especially of empty land, "ridiculously low."

He added that a proper upgrading of values would put more empty land on the market, resulting in more prosperity.

Becker said that many property owners are "reticent to develop land with values increasing each year at capital gains tax rates while property taxes are so favorable."

He listed properties, some actually valued at $80,000 to $100,000 but taxed on the appraisal values of only $1000 to $10,000.

HE SAID THAT in many cases, homeowners are paying as much as business property owners, where the business-zoned land is being held for speculation.

He said that his group was not trying to discourage business but to encourage it according to the Master Plan which states certain areas are best for business and industry, and others are not.

The word also reached Walnut Creek leaders, who have been eyeing their "Planned Working District" land, the hope of a bigger tax base for the city. It has been unclaimed with one exception.

Even residential Lafayette would like to see a more extensive retail business "base."

A. W. GLENDINNING, the county's chief appraiser, told The Sun, "Although it is true that the land values and appraisals in Pittsburg went down, this was due very much to the closing of Camp Stoneman.

"Generally the land values have gone up in Pleasant Hill, Walnut Creek and in the central part of the county," he said.

"In Walnut Creek, the commercial development has doubled or tripled in recent years, and appraisals will go up accordingly. The land values as they stand now are extremely low."

Glendinning explained how the appraising is done.

"The California state law prescribes that we assess all property in proportion to its market value, and that is the basis for making our appraisals.

"THIS IS NOT its potential value, but how much it will bring on the market at this time.

"A lot of empty land has been rezoned to commercial and industrial since it was assessed years ago, and they will now go up in value on the assessmend rolls. Some will be appraised at double, triple, or more compared with their present appraisals, where this is the true situation."

He continued, "Our goal is that everyone pay their taxes on the same basis. We, as appraisers, are not interested in the taxes but we are interested in the basis for those taxes."

"Our appraisals will be in more detail this time. With the industrial plants in Pittsburg and Antioch, it took several appraisers a month or so for each large plant. With the residences, the appraiser will ask to inspect the house and note the improvements and also any deterioration which should be taken in to consideration.

"THEY WILL INSPECT the home's complete layout, inside and outside, take measurements and also inspect the land."

He said, "In the case of the homes, it is likely that there will be as many lower appraisals as higher ones. An example is a $24,000 home built on two lots in Gregory Gardens. Such a home would be called an 'overdevelopment' and would not sell for $24,000 plus the land value. This would result in a lower appraisal."

Glendinning said that in each case, the appraiser is required to show his identification card, which has Dunklee's signature and the appraisers photograph, to the householder. The appraiser should not be admitted until he shows the card, he said.

The appraisers have been told not to enter a house where there are only minor children.

WHEN INFORMED by The Sun that several homeowners have expressed horror at the idea of being re-assessed according to "replacement value," he commented that this criteria, or its equivalent, "market value" is, and always has been prescribed by state law.

About 25 to 30 thousand parcels of land and their improvements will be re-appraised in this area by the end of this year.

It is anticipated that the new appraisals for the Mt. Diablo District area, including Pleasant Hill, will be taken into consideration for the 1959-60 fiscal year.

THE WALNUT CREEK area, Lafayette and Orinda re-appraisals will probably be used in the county budget tax calculations for 1960-61.

Glendinning estimated that after this program is completed, reappraisals will become a continuous program, under which each property in the county will be visited about every four years.

Assessor Dunklee's efforts to promote the new program were aided by the 1955 legislative decision to raise by 35 per cent all assessed valuations in the county.

The program has nothing to do with the annual expectation that the increased assessed valuation of the county will help reduce the anticipated tax rate. This is mainly due to additional homes and commercial enterprises, installed since the year before.

Art Center Gives $500 Contribution To Orinda Library

The Orinda Library Board announced this week the receipts by its Orinda Library Building Fund of a $500 contribution from Orinda Art Center.

"We are deeply grateful to Orinda Art Center for its contribution because we realize the hard work and determined effort required of its members to put together a sum of this size," said Perc S. Browbn, board president.

"In recognition of such fine community spirit we have authorized an expenditure to cover the upper portion of one wall with cork, also additional electrical outlets will be installed.

"ORINDA ART CENTER WILL SPONSOR the initial art showing in the new library at the time of its dedication. Since this is a public library, other art groups in Orinda may arrange for subsequent showings by prior scheduling through the head Orinda librarian, but the privilege of initial display deservedly belongs to Orinda Art Center. We understand it is their intention to arrange for, and to conduct, a series of art exhibits."

Brown, on behalf of the community and the library board, expressed sincere appreciation to Orinda Art Center and its members. He stated credit was due to Mrs. James Lindsay of Orinda Art Center and to Mrs. Donald P. Krotz of Orinda Library Building Fund, for their material assistance on behalf of both groups. Brown again called to the attention of many other Orinda organizations, the fact that opportunity still exists for them to also assist financially.

THE LIBRARY BOARD also announced that William M. Fleager, 10 El Sueno, had accepted appointment as general chairman of the Orinda Library Dedication Committee. This Committee will be in charge of, and will handle, all matters pertaining to, and will make all arrangements for, the formal dedication and official opening for public use, of the new library. Any individual or Orinda organization desiring to make suggestions should write Fleager at the above address. Fleager, an executive of Pacific Telephone Company, will choose the members of his committee.

Brown said the library board hopes that many more of the numerous Orinda organizations — which, to date, have not made a contribution to this community project—might take official action to do so at their first late summer meeting.

"It is recognized of course he said that money is almost continuously being raised in Orinda for some worthy purpose—and most of the requests are meritorious, however, the fact remains that once this Library project is completed there should be no need for annual solicitations — dependent upon the rate of growth for Orinda— for seven to 10 years and possibly more!

Chamber Sends Petition to City Supervisors

The Orinda Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution asking for the installation of traffic signal lights at Brookwood Road and Orinda Lane.

The resolution, to be forwarded to county supervisors, was voted on at a special dinner meeting of the chamber Tuesday night at Casa Orinda.

THE CHAMBER had asked Clarence Betz, secretary, to check with county officials after a number of accidents had occurred at the busy intersection.

Betz said he was told by Mark Kermit, county traffic engineer, that the supervisors had cut from the public works department budget an item providing for traffic signals at the intersection.

Betz said he had also discussed the question of the installation of traffic signals at the intersection of El Toyanal with the new Orinda bypass.

The chamber secretary said Kermit pointed out that conduits had been installed so that traffic signals can be erected if they prove necessary, and that crosswalks would be provided.

AL PETTLER discussed the proposed consumer survey being considered by the chamber.

"Is it the responsibility of the chamber to furnish marketing information to property owners and to furnish marketing information to Orinda business firms?" he asked.

"Such a survey could be of tremendous value. We have had numerous calls asking for information from out-of-town people."

He added that no one can "second guess what the requirements are of consumers."

A SURVEY, observed Pettler, could determine how many persons go to Oakland, Walnut Creek and Lafayette to buy goods that are available in Orinda.

"The purpose would be to find out what percentage of purchases is made in other town, and why," he declared. "We could find out what basic services are required, and what inadequacies are present."

Basic objectives, he added, would be worked out with the board of directors.

BETZ said he had continued his discussion with the district attorney's office on laws that might be enforced to prevent the local use of sidewalks for merchandise, and that it had been suggested that the chamber attempt to persuade merchants to discontinue such practices.

Paul Ogden, president, presided at the evening dinner meeting, called to make plans for the "Orinda Open House" to open October 3.

Reports were made by Al Baer, merchants committee chairman, and Herman Silverman, who will be in charge of publicity.

Contract Awarded To Repair Roads Hit By Storm

A contract for repairing storm-damaged roads, in the Orinda and Concord areas, has been awarded today to Vincent Evola and Son of Pittsburg who submitted a bid of $26,747,50, the lowest of six bids received.

The contract provides for reconstructing roads at four separate locations, on a cost-plus percentage basis. Bids were submitted for the percentages which would be applied separately to the actual costs of labor, equipment, and materials.

The work will be done on Bobolink Road, Kittiwake Road and Kenmore Court, in the Orinda area, and on San Vincente Drive and Los Flores Avenue, in Concord area. Generally speaking, the roads are to be reconstructed to modern standards, with provisions for proper drainage so that there will be no repetition of the damage which they suffered during the disastrous storms of the past winter.

This is the fourth contract awarded for storm damage repair for which the County will receive financial aid from the state, as prescribed by the state budget act.

Elaborate Prank Results In Four Youths' Arrest

An elaborate prank misfired this week for four youths who were charged with conspiracy to commit a misdemeanor and with carrying a concealed weapon.

They are Richard Ernest McConaughy, 17, of 854 Solano Drive, Lafayette; Douglas Dishong, 19, of 65 La Encinal, Orinda; Tom Ferguson, 20, of 3249 Judith Lane, Lafayette, and a 16-year-old Concord boy.

Police said Ferguson, dressed in military fatigues and carrying an open parachute, hitchhiked a ride with William H. Burgess of Concord on Oak Hill Road, and told the driver he was a British military courier who had parachuted from a flaming plane.

The other three youths planned to follow in their car, force Burgess to stop with blank pistol shots, and "abduct" the "military courier."

But Ferguson apparently became nervous about his role, asked the driver to stop, and got out.

After Burgess reported the incident to police, the youths were arrested in Concord while driving with a covered license plate. A gun was found in the car.

Jr. College Has New Part-Time Student Classes

Five new classes have been added to the program for part-time students at Diablo Valley College, this fall, according to Verle C. Hemstrand, adminstrator of the program.

Prompted by new developments in electronics and the changing needs of bay area industries, a new course in research and development electronics will be offered on Friday nights.

It will be a study of circuts theory and techniques employed in the fields of research, development, and production of electronic equipment.

Other new classes are "Report Writing," to be taught on Tuesday nights by Milton Cohen, technical report writer for the International Engineering Company, San Francisco; "Consumer Problems," a study of family expenditures as they relate to family living with emphasis upon cooperative planning, budgeting, selection and purchasing, to be taught on Thursday evenings by Richard Courtney.

"Income Real Property Appraisal" to be taught on Thursday evenings by Albert J. Lagorio of the Contra Costa County Assessor's Office; and "Intermediate Electronics" to be taught on Thursdays by David Pugatch, Quality Control Manager and Junior project engineer for Donner Scientific Company.

Registration for clases in the program for part-time students will be conducted at Diablo Valley College September 5 from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. for former students and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon September 6 for new students.

Information concerning classes offered, meeting times, registration, and other such items are included in a brochure entitled "Classes for Part-Time Students."

Two-Day Open House Here To Open Friday, October 3

The date for the "Orinda Open House" at which all Orinda firms will be hosts to local residents has been postponed and the affair will take place over two days instead of just one day.

John Ogden, chamber of commerce president, announced that the two-day celebration will open at 6:30 p.m. Friday, October 3, and continue all day the following Saturday.

"THE DATE was changed so that all merchants will have a chance to participate, and make this observance one that will attract everyone in Orinda," Ogden said.

The purposes of the "Orinda Open House" were explained by Al Baer, merchants committee chairman for the chamber.

"We are most interested in letting Orinda residents know what businesses there are in Orinda and what they have to offer," he said.

"THIS IS A 'get acquainted' program in which businessmen will have an opportunity to meet Orindans and show them what we have to offer."

Bob Waschmirth has been named to arrange for displays, including mobile units, by utility companies and governmental units represented in Orinda.

Dr. Ralph Hall, a director of the Orinda Association, said that organization will support the Open House. The Junior Chamber of Commerce will also take part.

A feature of the observance will be free bus service between Orinda Village and Orinda Crossroads, so that those attending can park cars at one place and take the bus to the other.

Earl J. Twomey Takes Own Life, Leaves Wife Note

Leaving his wife a note advising her to be "prudent in your investments," Earl J. Twomey, 54, of 100 Van Ripper Lane, Orinda, took his own life, Sunday, by running a garden hose from his car's exhaust pipe to a window.

The former Alameda County tax collector, who was considered a fine orator at St. Mary's College in his student days, was found in the car by a son, Earl, Jr., 15. Carbon monoxide poison was the cause of death.

Last year, Twomey became president of First Housing Securities, and before that was vice president of the Pioneer Investors Savings and Loan Association.

Born in Oakland, he graduated from St. Mary's College and attended Santa Clara University and the University of California Hastings College of Law.

He later went into business with his father in an Oakland tailoring business, and as a member of the Oakland Junior Chamber of Commerce received the Distinguished Service Award in 1934.

That same year he became chief deputy Alameda County treasurer, and in 1942 he was appointed Alameda County tax collector. He was elected to the post two years later, but he resigned to join Pioneer Investors.

The note to his wife, Elinor, expressed his regrets. Twomey is survived by Earl Jr., and two other sons, John Christopher and Richard Edwin, both of Walnut Creek.

Funeral arrangements are at Chapel in the Valley, Lafayette.

Breakins Blamed On Drug Addicts

Narcotics addicts are responsible for many of the burglaries in Orinda, Deputy Sheriff William Faulkner told members of the Rotary Club yesterday at their luncheon in Casa Orinda.

Drives against addicts in San Francisco and Oakland often send them into this area, he said, and they break into homes here in order to get funds for drugs.

Addiction is such an expensive habit that it causes many crimes, according to Faulkner, especially those involving theft.

Bridge Parties Planned By Orinda Parents Club

Orinda Parents' Club Bridge (formerly Mothers' Club) sessions will be started in the third or fourth week of September. The bridge chairmen are contacting all of last year's players, and are hoping for many new members this year.

There will be regular sessions every other week, on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday mornings and afternoons, and on Wednesday evenings. The meetings are held in the homes of the players, with hostesses taking their turns in alphabetical order.

The groups will be made up, as in the past, of players from all the schools, with sections for beginning, intermediate, and advanced (duplicate) players.

The Parents' Clubs would like to point out that any bridge player is welcome, whether or not she has children in school. Anyone interested in joining is urged to call any one of the following school bridge chairmen: Mrs. Leroy A. Bromley (Orinda School); Mrs. P. M. Ashworth (Glorietta School); Mrs. Edmund Lerch (Sleepy Hollow School); Mrs. Frank J. Kastner (Del Rey and Pine Grove Schools).

Last year's chairman, Mrs. Harold J. Smith, and her coworkers did an outstanding job, and collected better than $850 for the Mothers' Club fund. It is hoped that a comparable showing will be made during the next year.

Rights As Citizen Restored Jacuzzi

John B. Jacuzzi of Lafayette, member of a prominent East Bay family, has had his citizenship rights restored and is free to continue residence here.

The Board of Immigration Appeals in Washington this week reversed an Immigration Service ruling which deprived Jacuzzi of his citizenship and ordered him to leave this country.

Now 28, Jacuzzi went to Mexico in 1951 during the Korean War, and served six months in a federal prison last year after pleading guilty to a charge of draft evasion.

In 1957 Jacuzzi returned to this country. At the border, he surrendered to immigration officials and offered to accept induction but instead was sentenced to prison.

The immigration service appeal board ruled that Jacuzzi showed he had a "bona fide business purpose" in going to Mexico, and that there was no proof that his intent in leaving this country was to avoid the draft.

Jacuzzi, who is no longer subject to the draft, said he plans to resume active management of the plant in Monterrey, and that he, his wife, and infant daughter will divide their time between Monterrey and Lafayette.

'Desperate' Book Sellers On the Loose

A number of "desperate" book salesmen are calling Walnut Creek area parents, telling them they represent the Walnut Creek School District, and collecting information on their children, preparatory to a sales pitch.

They obtain the names of the children, find out which grade they are about to enter, and then go into a "You will have to have this book" routine, District Superintendent Sheldon Rankin told Trustees, Monday night.

Rankin said, "This happens every year. We don't know who they are. If we are told about it, they scamper by the time we are able to get there.

Run From Flames

A home at 1920 Buttner Road, Walnut Creek, sustained about $2500 damage Monday, when it was caught up in a grass fire, believed started by a child playing with matches.

About 10 acres of grass were burned.

Mrs. Joyce Chaney was forced to dash from the house with her three children in order to call the fire department. The rear portion and the roof of the home, owned by her husband's uncle, Bert Hill, were damaged.

$16.9 Million Bond Issue Needed for Key System Buy

A bond issue of $16,900,000, including $13,200,000 for new equipment, storage yards and maintenance facilities, will be required by the Alameda - Contra Costa Transit District to finance a system of improved and expanded public transit in the two East Bay counties.

The final bond issue amount, as recommended by the District's engineering consultants, DeLeuw, Cather & Company, also includes $3,700,000 to purchase a portion of the buses currently in use by Key System and Western Greyhound Lines.

THIS WAS THE report Wednesday of John R. Worthington, new general manager of the District, who also disclosed that the proposed operation will not require additional taxes.

Worthington, in a written review to the board of directors concerning financial aspects of the proposed system, said that the figures are a "fair and accurate estimate of the total amount necessary for the District to go into actual operation."

"I believe that the amounts set forth represent figures that are as close as both estimate and physical appraisal can come in forecasting the cost of setting up a transit system of this size," he said.

DIRECTORS are currently reviewing final drafts of the DeLeuw, Cather engineering recommendations for a transit plan which will be formally presented to the Board at an adjourned meeting Thursday. The Board is expected to place the $16,900,000 bond issue on the November general election ballot at that time.

OF THE ENTIRE amount of the bond issue, 62 per cent or $9,400,000 is for the purchase of new buses and new servicing facilities.

This includes $7,900,000 for 334 new buses of superior design and comfort, and $1,500,000 for new bus maintenance and storage terminals at Concord and Hayward, together with contingent expenses incident to acquisition of capital equipment, Worthington said.

The value of lands and buildings used by Key System for terminals and garages in Emeryville, East Oakland and Richmond, which would be acquired by the District, amounts to $3,400,000. Materials and supplies, tools and servicing equipment account for an additional $400,000.

THE VALUE of 276 of Key System's newer buses, which would be usable in the operation of the District, has been placed at $3,300,000, and 40 buses of Western Greyhound Lines, at $400,000, Worthington said. Many of these are practically new, he added.

The general manager pointed out that the engineers recommend against purchase of nearly 300 additional Key System gasoline buses for reasons of obsolescence.

Concerning the ability of the proposed operation to support itself without increased taxes, Worthington quoted Charles E. DeLeuw, president of the engineering firm, as follows:

"BASED ON PRESENT levels of prices, wages, and fares, our studies clearly show that the transit system will be self-supporting, and that the financing of all capital requirements can be accomplished without the imposition of any additional taxes.

"It is also our belief that increasing patronage will generate additional revenue, sufficient to maintain the sound financial base of the transit system for an appreciable time with the present fare structure."

Worthington told the directors that as time develops, there may be some slight divergence from the recommended plan regarding minor features.

"But the main basic service coverage recommended appears to be excellent," he said.

$2.4 Million Bond Proposal Given To Supervisors

Two bond issues, totaling $2.4 million have been recommended for placement on the ballot at the November general elections by County Administrator Desmond Teeter.

The County Board of Supervisors heard Teeter's report Tuesday in Martinez. The proposal calls for one bond issue for $1 million for expansion of the County Administration building in Martinez and a second issue for the outright purchase of three county buildings now being paid off under lease purchase agreements.

THE BOARD TOOK no formal action on the recommendations, but indicated its approval of the proposed measures.

The board set September 2 for formal vote on the issues.

The county aadministration issue would add some 36,000 square feet to the present building while the second measure would be used to pay $587,908 on the Martinez administration building, $632,973 on a county office building in Pittsburg and $179,411, still due on a two story ward at the county hospital in Martinez.

Teeter pointed out to the board that the payment would save the county some $171,000 over the next 14 years.

TEETER URGED that the administration building addition be put on the ballot. He informed the supervisors that the estimated $1 million cost would include the mechanical equipment necessary.

The board was informed that the county now rents over 4600 square feet of office space in Martinez alone.

County Assessed Valuation Is Up $37 Million; Supervisors Up Rate

Even though Contra Costa's assessed valuation is up some $37 million, the County Board of Supervisors indicated Tuesday in Martinez that they would increase the county tax rate by 12 cents.

Contra Costa's assessed valuation for 1958-59 is $741,508,265, an increase of $37,573,595 over last year.

THE FIGURE INCLUDES a $157,163,630 assessment on public utilities, a raise of over $6 million.

The figures were presented to the supervisors by C. L. Dunklee, assessor, after receiving the utilities roll from the State Board of Equalization.

The Board of Supervisors will conclude its budget hearings Thursday. The legal deadline is next Friday.

THE SUPERVISORS, thus far, have chopped some $5 million off the proposed budget and it now stands at $35,774,000, which, according to Desmond Teeter, county administrator, would call for a tax increase of 12 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The Contra Costa Taxpayers Association commended the board for its action in cutting $5 million off the proposed budget, but urged the board to keep the tax at its present rate.

The 12 cent increase would call for a tax of $2.28 per hundred of assessed valuation in all the county except Richmond.

THE TAX WOULD be approximately 10 cents lower there, since that city operates its own library system.

The Taxpayers Association was informed by Board Chairman Ivan Goyak of Richmond that cuts as proposed by the association "are not necessarily a savings to the taxpayers in the future" and that "the county could run into the hole if the budget recommendations suggested by the association were adopted by the board."

TEETER recommended that the board allocate an additional $75,000 to flood control for clearing and maintaining of secondary creeks throughout the county.

Teeter noted that the $75,000 would be cheap insurance for preventation of heavy storm losses as in past years.

Transit District Takes First Steps For Bond Election

The first official action required to place a transit acquisition and development bond issue on the November general election ballot has been taken by the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District.

Directors adopted a preliminary resolution of public interest and necessity at their regular meeting Tuesday, but withheld setting the specific amount of the measure until an adjourned meeting Thursday.

THE FINAL engineering recommendations for an improved and expanded transit operation, will be formally presented to the Board at that time by De Leuw, Cather & Company, engineering consultants.

County Chambers Ask 4c Tax for 'City Promotions'

The Associated Chambers of Commerce of Contra Costa County and the Contra Costa Development Association will draft a plan for the County Board of Supervisors for a $150,000 city promotional scheme.

The associated chambers asked the Board of Supervisors Tuesday in Martinez to set a 4 cent tax per 100 aassessed valuation for county and citv promotion.

UNDER THE PROPOSAL for public relations, according to Harry Nakahara, association president, each chamber would get a share of the projected $300,000 which would be raised through the tax.

Desmond Teeter, county administrator informed the association members and the supervisors that under the present budget a $48,500 expenditure is earmarked for county promotion.

The money comes out of the general fund and some $45,000 goes to the development association.

APPROXIMATELY $2500 goes to the State Chamber of Commerce and $1000 to the Bay Area Council.

The supervisors asked that the two groups draft up specific proposals and submit them at a later date.

Christian Science

How selfishness is overcome through the acknowledgment and understanding of God as the only Mind is a topic to be dealt with at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Christian Science Churches in this area are located at 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda; 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and in Concord at the corner of Grant and Park Streets. Christian Science Society of Pleasant Hill holds its services at the Hillcrest Congregational Church on Greg-

Among the Bible passages to be read in the Lesson-Sermon on "Mind" is this admonition of Paul: "Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but in lowliness of mind let each esteem others better than themselves. Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others. Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus" (Philippians 2:3-5).

Also pointing out the way to overcome selfishness are correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including this one: "When we realize that there is one Mind, the divine law of loving our neighbor as ourselves is unfolded; whereas a belief fin many ruling minds hinders man's normal drift towards the one Mind, one God, and leads human though into opposite channels where selfishness reigns (205:22).

Lafayette Man Survives Collision

Husky young Roger Fleiss discusses the matter calmly today, and you have the feeling that he was just as steady-nerved when the US Submarine Stickelback was struck by a destroyer May 29 a few miles south of Oahu.

"But I'm sure glad it's over," he said yesterday.

The Stickleback was taking part in war games with the US Destroyer Silverstein, and had gone into a dive to escape "hedgehogs"— small bombs— being dropped by the destroyer.

FLEISS WAS serving as quartermaster and was in the conning tower when the incident began.

"We were in a full dive at an angle of about 40 degrees when the lights went out," Fleiss said.

"I turned on the emergency lights. There was only a flicker, and I knew we'd lost power.

"We leveled off at about 380 feet after blowing the after tanks, and got back up to the surface with no power or air."

FLEISS SMILED, a little grimly, remembering.

"The captain was at the periscope. He saw that we were surfacing right in front of the oncoming Silverstein.

"He gave the order to rig for collision. I hit the collision alarm. There were just three weak peeps out of it, and then it quit. There was no power at all.

"Then the destroyer his us, and the Stickleback shook and shuddered as the ship went a third of the way through us. It hit just above where I had watch, aft of the forward battery.

"THE WATER came flooding in. We opened the hatch, and climbed out on deck. The sea was pretty rough."

Fleiss carried the quartermaster's log, and kept the record of the submarine's last few hours.

The destroyer put out lines to hold the sub, and air lines to keep the doomed ship afloat.

"WHEN THE AIR lines started to break, we knew the ship was gone," Fleiss said.

Members of the crew escaped by climbing up rope ladders on the sides of the Silverstein and the rescue ship.

The collision occurred at 1:23 p.m. and the submarine sank at 7 p.m. Fleiss was one of the last to leave, about an hour before the sub went under.

He received his discharge July 17 after two years in the Navy.

"It's sure good to be home," he reflected.

He plans to enter Chico State College this fall to study business administration and drafting.

Kindergartners' Parents Invited to Burton School

One of the few major high lights in a person's life is the first day of school. With this in mind, Burton School has invited the mothers and fathers of kindergarten children to spend one hour at school on Friday morning, August 29.

The children will spend the time in the classroom with their teacher, thus making it unnecessary for mothers to bring their children on the first day of school.

Parents are invited to meet in the school library with Mrs. Helen Corey, the school principal and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Westphal, the PTA president.

Parents will have an opportunity to become better acquainted with the workings of Burton School, the work of the PTA, and have an opportunity to ask questions about kindergarten.

Mrs. Willard Ginger, PTA tea chairman, said refreshments will be served to the parents. Mrs. Robert Vincent, hospitality chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. John McBride, vice president, Mrs. Sugene Barlett, treasurer, and Mrs. Willard Ginger.

For those attending the morning kindergarten session, the meeting will be from 9 to 10 a.m. the afternoon session will be from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

PTA To Discuss Child Safety

Vallecito parents whose children live within walking distance of Vallecito School will be able to meet Officer Herb Leslie of Capt. Russell Magill's office, California Highway Patrol, next Monday night at Vallecito School. This meeting has been arranged by Principal Graylis Vossler and PTA Safety Chairman Betty Lewis.

Officer Leslie will talk on the routes children will use to school and on bicycle safety. He will discuss whether he would recommend riding bicycles to school. Mrs. Vossler hopes to have a large group of parents attend.

Officer Leslie was to meet today with Mrs. Vossler and Mrs. Lewis to look over the area.

Acalanes Valley Notes

By ROSE HAWKINS

If you have read in the Sun Society columns about Joan Apostolo's wedding, you know that her sister Carol and Irma McLeod were bridesmaids, that Nicky Valente, her cousin, was adorable as flower girl, that her brother Jerry was an usher, and that Ada and Steve had a magnificent reception in Oakland.

Among those who attended the wedding and reception were her twin brother, David Apostolo; Rick and Barbara Benofsky, Mario and Jean Valente, Joan's grandmother, Mrs. M. E. Valente, Claudia, Ed, John and David Ferro, Carl and Cecilia Raible, Sylvia McLeod, Maria and Idar Gogstad, Elaine and David, Marge and Dick Frock, Lynn and Anne, Orlo and Maxine Christiansen, Bill and Grace Siefker, Pat and Bob, and the Hoffman family.

Anniversary: Five years ago in the summer of 1954 Betty Lewis organized a group of beginning square dancers on her patio to be instructed by Maria and Idar Gogstad and Rick Benofsky, making his beginnings as a square dance caller.

THIS PILOT GROUP was made up of Rick and Barbara Benofsky, Maria and Idar Gogstad, Betty and Martin Lewis, Dorothy and George Pence, and Rose and Norm Hawkins. In the fall, the group moved into Hawkins garage, and as it grew, with more neighbors coming, it became known as the Acalanes Valley Quadwranglers.

On its fourth anniversary a pot-luck dinner and square dance were held on Lewis' patio Friday August 8. All the pilot group were present to eat and dance at this barbecue.

ALSO AT THE gathering were Lois and Jim Cunningham, Doug Roddick, Anne and Bill Chilcote, Phyllis and George Irwin, Emily and Dave Hobbs, Pat Trogden and her mother, June and Hap Price, Earl Glenk, Beula Bishop, Frank and Sally Enearl, Joyce and Swede Nelson, and the honor guests newly arrived from Virginia, Minnie and Jimmy Lewis.

The Lafayette - Orinda Presbyterian Sunday School Picnic at Lake Temescal attracted several families Sunday August 17. They took part in foot races, volleyball and baseball. The day was particularly relaxing since the church deacons catered all the food.

DEACON DICK FROCK, who attended with his wife Marge, Lynn and Anne, provided the entertaining music at the end of the day. Among the 350 there were the Jones family, the Nelsons, the Lewises, the Hawkinses, the Benofskys, the Craigs, and the Klinkners.

Bob and Bebe Marsh had a wonderful vacation with Pamela and Robin at Bijou, Lake Tahoe. Pamela had a wonderful time as there were quite a few Lafayette teenagers at the lake.

BEBE REPORTED that her neighbors, Fran and Tony, were vacationing at Kings Beach, Lake Tahoe, with their teenagers, Gary and Linda. The Greblos had come to Tahoe on their return from a visit to Fran's sister and family in Oregon. Also at Kings Beach were the Greblos' former neighbors, Paul and Emily and David Hobbs, who had their four day vacation with Davey at Alpine Lake in the Sierras near Ebbets Pass. The fishing was good, but fish were smaller than usual as last year the lake had been drained to grub the bottom completely. Davey enjoyed the swimming in spite of some rain, and they took the long way home via Carson Pass and Silver Lake.

The Hawkins family had an interesting five-day trip, including a two-day hike in the high Sierras, an overnight stay in Reno taking in the McGuire sisters show at the Riverside, a business - camping trip which took in Susanville, Westwood, Mt. Lassen, and Redding. Westwood we found to be an abandoned 500-home lumber town, which last year had begun to redevelop.

FRAN AND BILL Sommers just returned from a trailer trip to the Grand Tetons, Wyoming, Yellowstone and Craters of the Moon, with Bobby and Billy. They are sold on trailer travel.

Ernie and Anne Richards are the proud grandparents of a son born to their daughter, Virginia Richards Wilent.

Marshall Clements, we are happy to report, is recuperating from his bout with virus pneumonia which hospitalized him for several days.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

See America First

TWO WEEKS WITH . . . Tents and tarps, bears and bees, deer and dirt, stiff necks, soft muscles, mosquitoes and mountains, paper plates, Coleman stoves, greasy spoons . . . and wishing you were back in your OWN kitchen.

The consensus of opinion on camping is that there is a Right Way and a Wrong Way. And most everyone has to do it the Wrong Way first. To learn the ropes to do it the Right Way. If you survive the Wrong Way, you're bit. By the Camping Bug. And then instead of being miserable while you wear yourself out, you can start enjoying yourself. While you wear yourself out.

TAKE THE TENT, for instance. Especially a borrowed one you've taken along without giving it a test-run. You pull up to camp. Find just the spot nestled between towering trees. You set smilingly to work, tackling the tent w/a positive attitude. Across from your site, up pulls a car w/a trailer. Down comes the step, out step the folks, somewhere a steak sizzles, the coffee pot perks.

BY THE TIME your camping confreres have finished dinner, are toasting marshmallows, lighting their pipes and contemplating The Great Outdoors, YOU are STILL wrestling w/the hammer and axe, the pole and the pegs. Then your Better Half hints softly—"Maybe, Darling, you have the tent turned upside down . . ." and That Does It! While wet logs smolder, so do you . . . and tears run down the children's cheeks! Well, what do you expect and WHY must they wrestle and roll around in that mountain dust that clings like soot to everything.

America The Beautiful

PICTURE POSTCARDS . . . A station wagon w/it's own Spare along—a tiny Volkswagon tied to its rear loaded w/equipment like a kid's surprise bag . . . Kool Klamath Falls and the sky turning pink after a sudden black thundershower . . . Mt. Shasta refreshing as a mammoth Sundae, a cool sight on the hot ride. Camp Mazame outside Crater Lake National Park, the cleanest most attractive campground . . . The approaching road to Crater flanked on one side by tremendous timberland, the other by granite canyons, or "Gorgeous Gorges" as the kids worded it . . . and say, whatever happened to that muscle-man character anyhow?

A FAMILY OF WILD TURKEYS, rumper to rumper, stopping traffic bumper to bumper . . . Same w/the mooching bears in Yellowstone . . . where in spite of bold signs warning "Do NOT Feed The Bears", unheeding vacationers took their lives in their hands all for the sake of a souvenir snap of the kids breaking bread w/the shaggy brown buffoons. Who might NOT be so funny!

THE THINGS WE DID THIS SUMMER . . . The piling in and piling out and then back IN the car again. The unending series of Stops at Service Stations and roadside rests . . . A few miles down the road and the inevitable wail from a small voice in the rear who was too busy w/cokes and curios and never DID get to where he was s'posed to be headed for. So another Stop.

The inevitable losses—sunglasses and such—a coat retrieved from a restaurant 17 miles BACK on the road, just like a woman! And the frustration for father again when suddenly, w/a sinking feeling, you realize you've given the driver a wrong steer at that last turnoff—a little matter of 34 miles out of the way. In the WRONG direction!

THE FUN of license plates from all over the USA and the kids playing "States, No States Back" just like you did when you were younger than.

THE CHRISTMAS TREE country of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho . . . the great lovely lake a boat's paradise . . . Here, days on the dock, water skiing, the visiting back and forth by boat . . . A Weenie Roast on the shale beach, the children singing, playing . . . poking each other's eyes out w/their weiner sticks. Oh, the peace of it! The sandcastles and forts built so carefully . . . then suddenly bowled over by the swells from a passing boat . . . the drying of tears. Oh, the Quiet of it! Life jackets de rigueur for little ones and the constant fussing to get them into theirs. Oh. the Heck w/it!

It's Big, Wide and Wonderful

KELLOGG & WALLACE, Idaho . . . the mining towns of sprawling mountains & houses on hills. Among our souvenirs, a delicate bowl fashioned of slivered potatoes, tinted, baked & shaped by a chubby-cheeked cherub of a Parisian Chef named Joe who has retired from the Escoffier ranks to cook dinners Fit for a King at The Silver Strike, somewhere in Idaho.

The Picture-Taking . . . the rude awakening . . . by bears foraging for food, by chipmunks darting around like quicksilver . . . The souvenirs to buy, the kids' queries of Who & Why . . . The surprise of finding a Virginia City in Montana, a tourist's sheer delight —a whole museum of a town, the historic little city the result of a rich man's hobby. There, no Gimmicks, No pressure, no junk to buy, simply a sauntering through a Part of the Past.

The General Store w/its' 100 & 1 pieces of foofaraw, the musty merchandise right there to feel & touch, just as it must have been back then . . . The Blacksmith's, the Opera House, the Montana Post bldg. w/its artful gingerbread, the Amusement Parlor where a nickel got you a grand & loud marching tune on an antiquated German pipe organ & for pennies, you got letters from Cupid playing Postoffice, or the player piano or peekabooed at old flickers & their flappers. In the coffee shop, the fun of running into Someone From Home—the Walnut Creek Howards, Charles Howard, Harmon & Joan & their boys.

WEST YELLOWSTONE town—Hey, wild & woolly, a neon nightmare in the midst of the mountains . . . The phenomena of Yellowstone Park—it's peculiar coloring & geysers, its eerie screens of steam . . . the Devil's Paintpot bubbling & gurgling, reminding the children of chocolate pudding cooking on the stove. Jackson Lake & Jenny Lake in the Grand Teton Park . . . most magnificient country —The mountains named originally Les Trois Tetons, (the Three Beasts), breathtaking & comparable to the Dolomites in the Bavarian Alps . . . For the souvenir hunter (w/a good story up his sleeve) whole archways of antlers in Jackson, hundreds of horns yours for $1 upwds.

SUMPTUOUS JACKSON Lake Lodge, high, wide & handsome to match the majestic mountains its 60 ft. expanse of window looks out upon. Through Grand Teton Pass—4 mi. up & 4 mi. down, the passing cars huffing & puffing, some NOT making it. Fields of unbelievable wildflowers prettier than a Podesta & Baldocchi window.

But There's No Place Like Home . . .

IDAHO FALLS, TWIN FALLS, Butte, Missoula, no longer just places on the map, but towns to remember for something, thanks to AAA's Triptik & recommended stops . . . The verdant & fertile farming country stretching to faraway mountains . . . the miles of sagebrush & nothingness, the long time between towns & WHERE do they go for a movie? the children wonder! Through Nevada at night, the never-sleeping towns suddenly there in the desolate desert. Nevada . . . known for its Jackrabbits, Jackpots . . . & Jackasses! Finally Reno & rest. Good talk, good friends, good food, then the last lap of the long journey. Good to be home again!

EASY COME, EASY GO . . . Lola & Ted Dyer, home from an easter junket & a wonderful time in NYC that incl. the memorable "Music Man" on Bwy. were northbound this wk. for a dividend holiday. The Chandler Barkelews camped at Trinity, came home to run the washing machine, departed again. Fran & Avram Yedidia sons vanished to Vancouver Island, spent 10 days at a charming French-atmosphered resort.

Wherefore Art Thou? Jean Henderson & dghtr. Judy are up in Portland for the Ashland Shakespearean Festival which continues through Aug. . . . Stu to join them there for the trop, not missing the old boy's sonnets, we hope.

THE LOUIS AMBLERS have flown east to Oyster Bay, LI for a family visit . . . Former Orindan Ellen Wilder returned to the fold & friends at Orinda Park Pool called for a party, a poolside luncheon instigated by Kay Brush. Closing the Camp Session at Berkeley's Tuolumne Camp this wk. are the Ted Schillings, Bill Littles, us too . . . Merle & Jack Saunders just returned last wknd. from Oakland Tuol. Camp whose director is Orindan Mel Nickerson. The Len Roths pitched their tent at Pillsbury Lake & the Dave Smiths are BIT but good after a salubrious stay along the river banks in Mother Lode country. Tanned Evelyn & Ed Roberts are back from Tahoe, ditto Nat & Bob Williams, Vern & Lila Axelson, and the Paul Handlerys are there now w/Yosemite ALSO on their agenda.

BRINGING LIFE TO BOOK LEARNING comes natural for Mrs. France Achener, who this summer has been teaching Walnut Creek boys and girls, 6 to 16 years of age, and some even younger, her native French language. Her boundless energy, and ability to make French a necessary part of classroom activity, is credited with the reat success of her classes. Here she flips French "pancakes" during a final session devoted to cooking. The classes are sponsored by the Walnut Creek School Parent Teachers Association. Mrs. Achener was a French Army nurse before the fall of France in World War II, and she and her engineer husband moved to the United States in 1946. —Sun photo by Richard Morse

Larsens Credited With Saving Five from Water

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Larsen of 730 Palmer Road, Walnut Creek, are credited with saving the lives of five young men, who were thrown out of their boat in the San Joaquin River near Antioch.

The couple spotted the men from their 22-foot inboard boat, hauled them aboard, and took them to the Antioch harbor. The men said that unexpected winds and big waves overturned their boat.

One of them was treated at the County Hospital in Martinez for lacerations suffered from propeller blades of their boat.

Fire Causes $2500 Damage to Home

The rear portion and roof of a home in Pleasant Hill suffered $2500 worth of damages in a fire Monday afternoon.

Central Fire District crews stopped the blaze after it damaged a fece and patio furniture in another home, threatened other residences and burned onto the adjacent Meadowbrook Country Club property.

Mrs. Joyce Chaney, 1920 Butner Road, fled the house with her three children, aged from five months to six years, to notify the fire department.

She and her husband, Robert, who was at work, live in the home which is owned by Chaney's uncle.

The patio furniture was located at the R. F. Maher home, 1900 Butner.

At the same time as the Butner Road fire, crews of the district were fighting three grass blazes.

Standard's local buying means good business for more than 26,000 "hometown" suppliers

Our shopping list covers everything from adding machines to zinc. Almost any item you can name—from commonplace things like pencils, paint, pipe, printing to the less ordinary like binoculars, badges, blankets and burglar alarms — is on our 50,000-item shopping list.

Here in the West alone, last year Standard was a good customer for more than 10,000 suppliers of goods and services, to whom we paid more than $250,000,000. This was an important factor in the business health of many western towns.

When a sum like this goes into circulation it spreads out in all directions to support jobs and payrolls. It helps assure customers for thousands of enterprises, both small and large, including Standard. That's why we make every practical effort to buy locally—it means better business in the communities we serve.

Progress in the West means—

Encouraging the growth of local business to help provide jobs for a population predicted to increase by one-third in ten years.*

1958: 22,774,000

How About Night Traffic Court, Traffic School?

How about a night traffic court for the Walnut Creek Judicial District?

This idea has been mentioned before, both by candidates for the office (during the primaries) and by The Sun.

Certainly it would benefit a vast percentage of our residents—or at least a vast percentage of those who get tickets.

Let's remember that this is basically a commute area, and this goes for Pleasant Hill and Alamo and Danville, too. Although these latter communities have court systems of their own, that does not help the driver who gets his ticket on Mt. Diablo Boulevard. He ends up in the Walnut Creek Judicial District Court for his hearing.

SUCH A NIGHT court would only have to be held for traffic volations, and could be held as seldom as twice a month. It would certainly make life easier for the commuter.

It is possible that such evening courts would have to be held more often when the population increases, but certainly now once every two weeks would be sufficient.

The Sun hereby notifies the two candidates for the post of Judge of the Walnut Creek Judicial District that they will be asked for their position on this matter. Their answers will be printed in next week's Sun.

ANOTHER QUESTION for the candidates: How about a traffic school? Such a program is feasible, if done through the adult education program, which would provide the funds.

It is necessary to have 15 members for an adult education class to be enrolled. Such a class could be held as seldom as once a month, thus insuring that there would be 15 "members" present.

Certainly there are enough traffic offenders in the area to fill such a traffic school.

The Sun will also ask the candidates for their feelings on this matter and present the results next week.

Both of these programs have been effective in other areas, and we are progressive communities. We can afford to learn from others.

At the moment there does not appear to be any reason why such programs would not be practical, and both would be an improvement over the present system.

We will let you know the results.

Let's All Walk to School

By BOB RAPIDA

"Why, back in the good old days I walked seven miles to school through the driving snow and pelting rain. By heaven, I never missed a day in ten years either," the old timer grumbled as he read the tale of a parent's disapproval of school bus discontinuation.

"I remember when I went to school," the middle aged matron bemoaned," we had to get there the best way we could. Lot's of times we would ride horses or buggies up to the old normal school," she continued while she read the same newspaper.

"THESE KIDS are just getting too soft," the 30-year-old businessman thought to himself as he read the aritcle.

"Why when I went to school we were too broke to even ride a city bus. We had to walk at least a mile through crowded streets to make it to good old PS 94."

Perhaps 50 years ago our old timer did have to walk seven miles through rain, sleet and snow to get to school, but about the only thing he really had to worry about on his way was catching a cold.

OUR MATRON FRIEND had a problem, too, 35 years ago in getting to the normal school, but at least she had a 50-50 chance that she could get there in one piece.

Our 30 year old friend might have been broke, but at least he had sidewalks and a cop on the corner to direct traffic 20 years ago.

But, how about our children of today?

In the old days, if somebody would whip a team of horses through the main street of town chances are he'd be tarred and feathered and run out of town on a rail.

TODAY, OUR CARS have several hundred horses under the hood and the most that can happen if you wheel through a school zone over 25 miles per hour is a fine, unless you kill somebody.

In our school districts bus transportation is being curtailed to a certain extent because a school's main business is education, not transportation and since the taxpayers won't pay the bill for both, something has got to be eliminated.

Now, parents are realizing that their children are going to walk to school. These children, in most areas, will be walking over narrow roads which are used as main arterials.

Very few of these roads have walkways at the shoulders or sidewalks. During the winter months in the late afternoon these roads are pitch black.

THERE ARE NO TRAFFIC officers at the corners. There aren't enough sheriff's deputies, highway patrolmen or police officers to even take care of the routine criminal work much less to help children and old ladies in crossing the streets.

THE SCHOOL DISTRICTS have no legal responsibility to provide protection for the children going to and from school and the county can hardly afford to build sidewalks, install crossing guards, and illuminate every street.

The motorists can be expected to exercise every precaution around school zones, but where does the actual responsibility lie?

According to a report, prepared by Mark Kermit, county traffic engineer, Contra Costa County is a very safe place for pedestrians with just two exceptions.

THE FIRST EXCEPTION is if you are a child five-year-old. A five-year-old was involved in more pedestrian traffic accidents than any other age group.

Most five-year-olds don't go to school. Most five-year-olds don't play out after dark. Most five-year-olds are under the direct supervision of their parents.

The conclusion from these facts is that parents do not properly instruct five-year-old in proper traffic safety procedures.

THE SECOND EXCEPTION for a safe traffic-pedestrian relationship is a time factor.

Ten at night to be exact.

In this time very few children are out. Very few elementary school children in particular. (There have been, to this date, very few complaints regarding teen-agers walking any farther to school.)

This time of night seems to be bad for two reasons: the motorist is tired as is the pedestrian. Either the pedestrian or the motorist or both have been drinking.

School is almost here. Now seems to be the time to walk over the route which your child will have to walk everyday to school.

After the walking over of the route yourself, it wouldn't hurt to walk it with your children and to point out to them particular dangers along the way.

It's up to the parent to make sure that his or her child is properly forewarned of the dangers of walking to school.

School's Near, Drive Safely

MORE CHILDREN than ever before will be walking to school. Help these children get to school by driving safely and making sure there are no obstructions to their safe passage along your property line and the street.

Blooming Habits Marked In Gardener's Inventory

It's typical of the gardener that he will hem and haw for months before building up courage to rip a plant out by the roots. And it is also typical of most gardens that half a dozen or more plants should be ripped out.

If you stop to consider your own yard, you will probably be forced to admit there are things you could do without. An old shrub might be so overgrow as to have lost all form. Yet, because it has been faithfully growing for so long, you can't bear to pull it out. A rose that's shy on blooms or subject to mildew should be replaced, but it's been keept around in the vague hope it might do better next year.

BECAUSE of this, the California Association of Nurserymen points out that a thorough, once-a-year inventory should be the order in every garden. Such an inventory makes it hard for the gardener to overlook a poor performer.

It may also reveal certain other truths about the garden. For instance, you might find that permanent shrubs would better fill that bed you have been devoting to annuals; or that a new background planting would enhance yet another bed or soften the vertical line of a fence.

NURSERYMEN consider late August or early September a good time for such an inventory. The gardeners' attention to the chores is less needed at this time of year. And further, the blush of spring is not at hand to hide or minimize what defect there are.

Take a pencil and paper along, and as you list each plan, jot down what you remember of its blooming habit. Was it in harmony with other plants or did it bloom at the wrong time to show with its neighbors. Then draw a plan of your garden and plot how each plant might be better fitted to the year-long picture. When it's all on paper, you'll find it easier to decide what should come out and what could be juggled around to give you better effects in every season.

Letters to The Editor

CONGRATULATIONS

DEAR EDITOR:

Loud hurrahs to Dave deVarona for organizing the Lafayette Youth Association swim program.

It took much "know how" and considerable research to find the right coach and assistant coach for this program. Mr. deVarona found such people in Bob Sherman and Louise Elsenius.

Also, the selection of the teenage instructors for the program was outstanding. Many thanks to Mr. deVarona for finding Linda Jordan, Sue Dunshee, Bobbe Hamburg and Karen Betaque, to name but a few.

These young people were long on patience and firmness (with absolute fairness in all situations), and recognized the potential, bringing out the best in each child.

Mrs. Gavin High

BUS STOPS

DEAR EDITOR:

I believe the Lafayette School Board should reconsider action on dropping the number of school bus stops. Parents are definitely concerned about the fact that the county roads, as they are presently maintained, are impossible for safe pedestrian traffic. Along Moraga Road, for an example, a shoulder does not exist in some places and an extremely dangerous blind curve just past North Road would make walking a poor gamble. Yet, come September, this route will be filled with children!

In an economy move, why couldn't bus stops be consolidated? For instance, Hamlin Road and Silver Springs Road into one at one location or the other? Surely five and six year olds should not be permitted to walk hazardous Moraga Road and any school board member who drove out that way could see for himself the folly of this ruling. Until such time as the county widens present shoulders, makes shoulders where there are none and cuts out blind curves on heavily traveled Moraga Road, I do not believe children should be expected to walk to school. Further, parents who simply will not expose their children to the danger of walking Moraga Road will drive them to school, thereby creating more traffic and increasing the danger to children whose parents are unable to transport them privately. One school child traffic victim would be too many!

Sincerely

SUSAN STONE

MISGUIDED

Dear Editor:

It should give all of us confidence in this nuclear age that the U. S. Senate voted last week to never vote money for any study by the defense department which would involve a theoretical or actual surrender by the United States in case of an all-out nuclear war.

We can picture our breast beating Senators, indignant as such a study, proposed or otherwise, rising on the Senate floor to proclaim patriotically that the U. S. would never surrender, etc., etc.

The poor misguided club members of the most exclusive club in the U. S. should really wake up and realize that in case of all-out nuclear war, extinction of the human race in this world is involved, and that Americans are members of this race and the nuclear cloud and radiation will even reach the U. S. Senate floor!

Tom Kendall.

BLAST OFF!

Dear Editor:

Following are quotations from a clipping that might bear some comment in The Sun in view of the trouble of this exact type, and I understand, by the company mentioned, in Contra Costa County.

"The Holland Furnace Co. today flatly denied the findings of the Federal Trade Commission and charged that the commission has put its stamp of approval upon hazardous repair practices in the heating industry.

"The FTC had ordered Holland Furnace to cease using a sales scheme under which it is alleged, salesmen presented themselves as city inspectors and told householders their furnaces needed cleaning.

"Later, it is said, two other men would dismantle the furnace, and find trouble an engineer would have to check. The alleged engineer would declare the furnace dangerous to operate and try to sell a new one. If the householder refused, the old furnace would be left dismantled.

"The company said it would appeal to the federal courts from the FTC's cease and desist order, which it said charged misrepresentation by the company because of Holland's policy of recommending replacement of deteriorated and unsafe furnaces rather than making temporary and unreliable repairs."

Here Is Some Stuff from The Little Red Notebook

By Herman Silverman

I carry a little red notebook in my pocket. I jot down notes from time to time—and often forget about them. Today I remembered to look at "COLUMN IDEAS," so here goes.

"SCHOOL DISTRICT UNIFICATION:" This note reminds that WE (taxpayers, parents, citizens) might very well start thinking about the unification of school districts. A school committee within the Acalanes area (Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda, Moraga and Canyon) is now studying the possibility. And the state is bringing more and more pressure on districts to consolidate into larger units.

As you know, schools of Concord, Pleasant Hill, etc. consolidated into the large Mt. Diablo District some years ago and observers consider it successful. Residents probably agree, since Mt. Diablo's tax rate is lower than the total paid by any taxpayer for schools in the Acalanes area. Economy is certainly an important factor.

However, some observers say they don't think it would save money but that unification of the districts within the Acalanes area would offer more and better services for the same tax dollar.

I don't think anyone has the answer yet. It may or may not be worthwhile. Let us keep an open mind and study the problem.

The water is fine

My next note says "SWIM POOL." Last Sunday was opening day for the Las Trampas community swimming pool in our neighborhood. It is a wonderful idea and a wonderful pool. We talked about it for some years but could never quite get organized. Then, some good people with lots of energy did more than talk. And the pool was built.

Other community pools are now being organized and I heartily recommend that you join one. And if your neighborhood needs one, go ahead—it's worth working for.

Doc Crandall furnished me with another note—"GOLF COURSE." Doc referred to a recent column that Antioch was the county's only municipal golf course. He pointed out that the Tilden course is in Contra Costa County and is used by many local golfers. I stand corrected and thanks, Doc.

Baseball and voting

"KID BASEBALL." Hats off and congratulations to all the people responsible for our youth baseball program this summer. It certainly was successful. There are too many people to name — but thanks to all of you.

Another note—to plug the need for registering so you can vote in the November election, if you are not already registered.

And here's a note from Eleanor—"Come home early enough for dinner." I shall obey.

Lafayette Back-to-School Sale Means Music For Lucky Person

It's time to think about getting ready for school.

Schools here will open September 3, and Lafayette merchants started their big Back-to-School slae Wednesday.

MUSIC-LOVING youngsters and their parents, too, will find it doubly worth-while to visit Lafayette stores now.

Not only will they find real values in back-to-school merchandise, but they'll be able to take part in a contest in which they have a good chance of winning a prize of 50 phonograph records of their choice.

Stores participating in the record contest include Stitch 'N Style, Jim Shierry, McTavish's Ice Cream, the Emporium, Toyland, Shoo Time Shopping, Lafiesta Variety, Fiesta Fashions, Sutton's Shoe Shoppe, Jonay's, and Lafiesta Foods.

There's nothing to buy in order to enter the contest—just visit one of the stores participating, write your name and address on a coupon, and drop it in a bx.

YOU DON'T EVEN have to attend the drawing, to be held at 2:30 p.m. September 6 at The Hut in Lafiesta Shopping Center.

First Nighters Applaud Dramateurs' 'Desk Set'

The Dramateurs' production of "The Desk Set," which was up to the high standard of the group's previous production here, made it easy to see why the comedy ran on Broadway for two years.

Additional performances are scheduled at 8:30 p.m. today and tomorrow at Lafayette Town Hall.

The story deals with the introduction of a "mechanical brain" into the reference library of a radio broadcasting company.

THE LIBRARY is staffed with women who think the mechanical brain, familiarly known as "Emmy," a mervel of sounds and flashing lights, is going to replace them.

The plot of the play revolves around their opposition to the machine, and the efficiency engineer in charge of its installation, a role played by Franklin Sher, who manages to be thoroughly unlikable and a perfect foil for the opposition of the librarians until the play's very end, when he turns out to be not such a bad sort after all.

OREALLIA SALONEN, as chief librarian, proved herself a top comic actress, handling the lines of a different part with professional ease, and kept the first-night audience laughing most of the time.

She was superb in the office party scene, playing the role of a slightly tipsy woman with just the right touch to stay on this side of burlesque, and still be funny.

Mary Genesy, Peg Stanislawsky, and Betty Moran, as assistants to the chief librarian, contributed their bits to the general hilarity, as did James Harris in the role of the chief librarian's rather reluctant boy friend.

CONTRIBUTING to the play's success in supporting roles were Clarence Betz, Norma Betz, Tony McComas, Chris Romine, Helen Blankenberg, Pat O'Donnell, Jack Holder, Cal Knickerbocker, Pete Morrissey, Becky Harris and Betty Reynolds.

Credit goes to Carl Rasmussen and his assistant, Corrinne Neumann, for a fine job of direction.

Special mention should be made of designers and creators of Emmy, the mechanical brain, who won a great many laughs all by herself — Bruce Winkworth, John Read, and Stan Stillson.

Lafayette Man Marries In Palos Verdes Rites

Artistic arrangements of pink and white gladioli interspersed with myriads of white candles and dainty pink nosegays marking center aisle pews formed the setting in St. Francis Episcopal Church, Palos Verdes, for the wedding August 2 of Diane Breene and Stanley Pedder. The Rev. Robert Tourigey officiated at the ceremony.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, Peter W. Breene, the bride was preceded down the aisle by Mrs. Richard Mailander of Long Beach as matron of honor, Miss Phyllis Herbert, Susan Steinko, Annette Vanier and Mrs. James Fox.

JAMES SMALL of Berkeley was best man and guests were seated by Scott Ferguson, cousin of the bridegroom, Al Knorpe, Al Culp of Orinda and Jerry Venoli.

For her wedding the bride wore a Natali Nichol original of white peau de soie and illusion veil caught by a crown of sparkling rhinestones. Her bridal bouquet was made of white orchids, valley lilies and stephanotis.

Bridal attendants wore shell pink silk gowns and carried nosegays of pink carnations.

A WEDDING RECEPTION followed the service at the Palos Verdes Country Club. The bride's mother received guests in a silver blue lace gown and the mother of the bridegroom chose a champagne lace sheath with brown accents.

The new Mrs. Pedder attended Marymount at Santa Barbara and Flintridge and is a graduate of College of Pacific.

Stanley, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peddler of Lafayette, is a graduate of Acalanes High School, and of College of Pacific and is now attending Boalt Hall of the University of California.

The couple will make their home in Berkeley.

Out of town guests attending the wedding, in addition to the bridegroom's parents, were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pedder of Lafayette, Mrs. Kenneth Ferguson, of Berkeley, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Tuttle and Miss Joey Tuttle of Orinda, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Matson, and Mrs. and Mrs. Henry Park.

Janice Read Is Bride of UCLA Man

Pink and white stock, carnations and snapdragons decorated St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek, as Janice Lyn Read of Alamo and James S. Lindsay of Culver City became man and wife.

The couple honeymooned in Carmel, and plan to continue studies at the University of California, Los Angeles.

Rev. Wilfred Hodgkin performed the rites. The bride wore a white organdy full skirt, fitted jacket, and carried a white Bible with white orchids and stephanotis.

She was attended by Sally Haine Haines of Los Altos, a Chi Omega sorority sister, who wore a pink and white silk dress.

William Lindsay, James' brother, was the best man.

A reception was held afterwards in the home of Janice's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Read of 400 Erselia Trail, Alamo.

Janice graduated from Anna Head School in Berkeley in 1957, and is enrolled at UCLA. Mr. Lindsay will graduate from UCLA next February. He is president of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity there.

James' parents are Mr. and Ms. Robert Lindsay of Culver City.

Peggy Boevers Inspires Parties On Wedding Eve

Miss Margaret (Peggy) Boevers, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Maurice Boevers of Willow drive in Lafayette, has been the inspiration for numerous parties since the announcement of her approaching wedding to James Christian Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Hanson of Lodi.

The wedding ceremony will be performed August 31 at the Lafayette Community Church.

PEGGY HAS chosen Mrs. John Glover, Stockton, to be her matron of honor, and bridesmaids will be Miss Joyce Schaefer, Concord; Mrs. Ronald Wilbur, Lafayette; Miss Gale Garaventa, Concord, and Miss Marcia McMullen, Santa Rosa. The latter two are sorority sisters.

Candlelighters will be the Misses Carolyn Kelleway, Walnut Creek, and Miss Penny Boevers of Sacramento.

Parties given for Peggy include a miscellaneous shower in Stockton with Mrs. John Glover as hostess; a luncheon in Berkeley given by her godmother, Mrs. Thomas S. Dabagh, and a kitchen shower hostessed by Mrs. E. Gorton Linsley of Lafayette.

OTHER PARTIES given for the popular bride-elect include those given by Mrs. William Lawrence and Miss Barbara Lawrence of Lafayette, and the spinster luncheon at the Claremont Saturday at which Mrs. Fred Kelleway and her daughter, Carolyn, were hostesses.

Newlywed Pair At Home Here After Travels

Now making their home at 941½ Mt. View drive in Lafayette after a honeymoon in Oregon, Washington, and Victoria, B. C., are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis.

The bride, the former Gertrude Laurence of Galesburg, Ill., was employed in Oakland before the marriage May 18 at the First Congregational church in Oakland.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Davis of Lafayette. A graduate of Acalanes High School, he served in the Navy for three years during World War II.

Escorting the bride to the altar was her brother, Larry Laurence, and matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Ruby Reno of Galesburg. The bride's attendants included Judy Reno, her niece; Marilyn Ells, the groom's sister, and Betty Peona of Oakland.

Best man was Roger Ellis of Puente, the groom's brother-in-law.

The bride wore a white lace net with sweetheart neckline, a hoop skirt of lace net ruffles, ballerina length, a fingertip veil with a crown of pearls and rhinestones.

Patricia Myers To Wed Alan Hendren Sept. 13

Miss Patricia Ann Myers and Alan Kerry Hendren have set September 13 as their wedding date. Miss Myers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert W. Myers of 714 Los Palos Drive, Lafayette. A graduate of Stephens College, she is at present working in her father's office.

Mr. Hendren is the son of Mr. and Mrs. K. Garvin Hendren of Bethany, Missouri. A graduate of the University of Missouri, he is now employed in San Francisco, where the young couple will make their home. Mrs. Hendren, the groom's mother, will fly here from her home in Missouri to attend the wedding.

Patricia has chosen Donna Laney of Lafayette as her maid of honor. Her bridesmaids will be her sisters, Priscilla and Prudence Myers, her cousin, Nancy Indelicato, and her former roommate at Stephens, Wendy Gibbons, whose home is in Barrington, Ill. For the candlelighters Pat has chosen Jane Haworth, now in nursing training at Merritt Hospital and Gerry Dress, a long-time friend.

Miss Myers has been honored and entertained by many of her friends and relatives. Her aunt, Mrs. C. Indelicato, Mrs. J. Koblisen and Mrs. G. Lateana were co-hostesses at a linen shower.

Shirley Jones and Elley Gardner co-hostessed a round-the-clock shower at the home of Miss Jones in Orinda. Donnal Laney entertained at a kitchen shower.

Jane Haworth, Gerry Dress and Joyce Schaeffer have sent out invitations for a food and beverage party for Pat and Alan on August 23. Miss Mary Matlock is entertaining the same group at a Sunday morning brunch August 24.

Mrs. Stanley Hill is honoring the bride-to-be at a bathroom shower coffee klatch on August 23 at her home in Lafayette.

Misses Priscilla and Prudence Myers will give their sister her spinster dinner at the Orinda Country Club.

Group Plans Style Show

The Ro-Ann Cradle is planning a fall luncheon-fashion show for the benefit of the Salvation Army's Booth Memorial Hospital at the Orinda home of the Paul R. Handlery's. Mrs. Olive Park, president, has announced that proceeds will be used to continue work that is being done by the Cradle.

The setting of the afternoon affair will be in the gardens and around the swimming pool at the Handlery home. Lovely new fall fashions will be shown by the Irene Theis Shop of Walnut Creek with Margaret Crawford as commentator.

Models will include Mrs. Charles H. Currier and Mrs. Adrian W. Adams of Orinda. Mrs. Leslie E. Sanders of Lafayette or Mrs. Paul R. Handlery may be called for tickets.

The Sun Goes to A 49er Practice Session

Y. A. TITTLE, San Francisco quarterback, directly behind line, readies to handoff to Jim Yore, 235-pound 49er fullback, during scrimmage at St. Mary's College. Working the line are Marv Matusick and John Gonzaga, former Mt. Diablo prep star.

BROTHER U. ALBERT, vice president of St. Mary's College at Moraga, points out some fast action during the 49ers practice sessions to Tom Corbin, Frank Holmes and Bob Holmes.

TED CONNOLLY, outstanding 49er for the past several seasons, gives Tom, Frank and Bob his autograph following a rough session on the Moraga turf.

Rookies Steal Show From Old Pros During 49er Practice At Moraga

Just two days before professional football opened its F13th major league season in the Bay Area with the San Francisco Forty-Niners bumping pads versus the New York Giants The Sun toured the 49er encampment at St. Mary's College in Moraga.

Along with the Sun were three boys, Tom Corbin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clay Corbin; Bob and Frank Homes, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Holmes and a camera.

UNDER THE BRIGHT Moraga sun the 49ers went through their practice paces. Sunday, they left Moraga to bow 19-10 to the eastern professionals.

To the 30 or 40 fans seated on the bright green turf primary attention was on the proven pros, such as Y. A. Tittle, Bob St. Clair, who was out of commission with a broken toe, Billy Wilson, and Ted Connolly.

But along with Hugh McElhenny and R. C. Owens were a bunch of rookies who are looking forward to a season which will field them along with the old pros.

THERE'S JIM YORE. 235 pound full back, who may be in the starting lineups in the near future with Tittle, McElhenny and Owens, and Dennis Morris, who started the game Sunday at middle linebacker.

In the defensive lineup fans at Moraga had their eyes on Frankie Albert as he ran Jerry Mertens, Charlie Hardy, LeRoy Phelps and Tony Teresa through their paces.

Out of three rookie guards, one will find a spot. Don Manoukian, of Stanford has been working with John Wittenborn and Dave Jesmer for the perch.

Harold Dukes proved a popular favorite as the husky, rangy pass grabbinb end nabbed the hide on tosses from Tittle.

THE FANS MISSED out watching the performances of such outstanding rookies as John Brodie, working behind Tittle, Jim Pace, Fred Dugan, Bill Atkins and Charles Krueger.

All were in Chicago getting ready to sink the Detroit Lions in the 25th Annual All Star game.

Albert commented at St. Mary's before game time, that Pace would be a real threat which which he proved several hours later on television by sparking the All Star offense in the opening quarter of play with a 75 yard gallop just short of pay dirt.

A surprise to many of the fans at St. Mary's was the offensive playing of J. D. Smith, a defensive back for years, who was suddenly transformed into an offensive ball carrier.

Working the line in place of co-captain Bob St. Clair was John Gonzaga, one time prep star at Mt. Diablo High School.

THE 49ERS ARE STILL at the Moraga campus and as a rule practice twice daily. They'll be there until the first week of September and now is a good a time as any to get a close look at the boys.

Practice sessions are rough with a lot of work on the basic fundamentals.

Fans are welcome and there's plenty of grass for everyone.

Takes Destruction Prize

Brad McGuire took the coveted $500 first prize in the annual destruction derby held August 13 at Contra Costa Speedway.

McGuire drove a lovely(??) red and white 47 Pontiac with (of all things) automatic transmission.

THIS VIRILE VEHICLE was car number two of team 88. Other members of the prize winning team were Jack Clayton of Pleasant Hill, and Ed Jenkins and Don Minnick, both of Richmond.

If you have never witnessed a destruction derby, you missed a truly bewildering experience. Thousands of people jammed themselves into the local stadium to watch the 130 ancient vintage cars destroy each other.

The fiasco consisted of four exciting 7 minute rounds and a "really smashing" main event.

In each round, one driver of the four man team appeared, captains going first. After all team members had participated once, doing as much damage as possible, the main event began.

Over 95 cars ringed the infield facing outwards. The lights flashed off, went on again, and the crowd was witnessing the greatest auto massacre of the year.

Three cars caught fire during the evening, but there were no injuries.

Hardtop Highlights

By JEAN McGUIRE

Our resident drivers showed they knew the "short way around the track" last Saturday night at Contra Costa Speedway. In almost every heat the local boys finished well in the front of the pack.

In the first heat Chet Strock of Concord, driving car number 10 blazed around the track to win in the time of 2 minutes 21.69 seconds. Chet showed us a very impressive job of driving which was made even more so by his winning the trophy dash later.

PACHECO'S Cliff Bennett, in car number 25, took third place in the first heat, fourth in the final, and led the semi-main event almost to the finish before he spun out.

Pleasant Hill Ace Jack Clayton did his usual good job by winning the third heat, and running Chet Strock an awfully close second in the trophy dash. Jack also led the main event for eleven laps and then his engine blew. I was sure we were going to have our first area main event winner, till the motor scattered.

Adding to the bad luck list was Hugh Payne of Concord. During the third heat his black number 36 was hit, knocking the front end right out onto the track. Here's hoping both Payne and Clayton are back in contention soon.

WALLY BAKER of Sacramento won the main event, but is still trailing Hugh Purdy in point standings.

Tim Kelly of Pacheco, driving car number 73 for the first time, was involved in a terrific pile-up on the far turn. Tim was hit and flipped, and the car behind him, unable to stop, ran right up over the top of his. Kelly was shaken up but uninjured.

Tomorrow's program will carry the usual 25 lap main event, and the week after that, August 30, will be the big 100 lap race.

Sports

Knights to Prepare for Sept. 9 'Practice' Game

"Labor Day," September 1, will be exactly that for the Las Lomas High football squad, which will open three weeks of rugged practice under the Coach, George DeKlotz.

The Knights have until September 19 to get ready for their first non-league "practice" game of the season—a home game against Sir Francis Drake of San Anselmo.

And they will have not quite a month before their first league game, which will be their baptism in the Foothill Division of the reorganized Diablo Valley Athletic League.

COACH DeKLOTZ said this week that he is concerned mainly with developing new tackles and guards to replace the vacancies by the graduating varsity players.

He said, "We won't have the speed of last year, but if we can come up with a strong middle line, we will have a pretty good club this year."

He added, "I expect that it will be a three-team affair in the DVAL this year, with Las Lomas, Acalanes and Piedmont the top contenders. Piedmont has a veteran team, and most of the varsity is back this year. They didn't do too well in their Alameda County League last year, but they are a good club. And we are about even with Acalanes."

DeKlotz will have to rely a great deal on his 11 returning lettermen—quarterback Don Hopkins, quarter and halfback Steve Moore, fullback Clark Ransome, tackle Dave Weill, tackle Bob Blower, guard Tom Leonard, halfback Jim Hemstalk, tackle Jeff Beubien, end Bob Gomez and end Dick Dodge. All are seniors.

A MAJOR CHANGE is his planned shift of Ransome from end to fullback. Leonard is being moved from back to guard and Moore, a quarterback last year, will alternate between quarterback and halfback.

The Knights will use the T-formation this year, with variations. Last year they used the "Stanford T," but there will be some changes this year.

The practices will be held on the field, and the public may view them without charge.

DeKLOTZ plans to have the boys hardened up in time for the Sir Francis Drake clash on September 19.

The other practice games are as follows: John Swett, September 26, away; Alhambra, October 3, home; Pleasant Hill, October 10, away.

Teams in the Foothill Division are Las Lomas, Acalanes, Piedmont, Miramonte and San Ramon. Last year, in the old league, the Knights placed second, under Pittsburg. This was the third year the Knights were second, with the Pirates on top.

What a summer the Nelson Burrin family has had! Might as well dub their home on Cragmont Drive in Walnut Creek the "Burrin Hotel"—WITH hot and cold running water.

During the first part of the summer, Nelson's father and mother, the Ben Burrins, arrived for an extended vacation. With them was an aunt, Miss Esther Burrin, who stayed with the Burrins before and after a trip to Honolulu—and were they thrilled when she returned laden with exotic gifts for Betty and "Nels" as well as their four children, Steve, Susan, Peggy and "Chip".

And here come the relatives!

Anyway, along about this time an aunt of Betty's arrived whose name I failed to jot down. She was followed by Betty's sister, Barbara Bennett, who is one of the most charming persons I've ever met. All of these relatives were from Indianapolis and all are back there by now. How Betty took care of her guests, along with many excursions and glamorous evenings out, her neighbors will never understand—but that's OUR Betty.

Just before Barbara left these people were invited in for coffee and trays of the most delectable goodies: Ruth Harris, Alice Piccone, Esther Tooker, Donna Winslow, Iva McGuire, Wanda Obert, Marge Ramsey, Lorene Terry and Lucille Fickett.

The latter had just returned from an extended visit in Detroit where she and her son, Douglas stayed with relatives. They also spent several days on the ranch in Kansas where Lucille was raised. You can imagine what fun Douglas had learning about ranch life.

Marge and Ray Ramsey and their children Ellen and Raymond spent two weeks at Newport—also spending time at Disneyland and San Diego.

"Frankie" (Mrs. Howard) Bell, a former Towhee, was entertained recently by Mrs. Donald McIntosh at a patio party. The Bells have been living in Iran, for Howard is with Standard Oil, and have been vacationing in California this summer.

Unfortunately, they must return

They will be returning soon to the Middle East, but this time Tehran will be their home. Welcoming Frankie at the poolside party were: Gladys Gardner, Gen Dodge, Jackie Fain, Ginny Cuenin, June Dahlgren, Shirley Wisecarver, Bobbye McGuire, Eileen McLaren, Helene Rodier and Pat MacKay.

The Bells also were entertained at an evening party co-hosted by the Dyke MacKays and the Phil Knoxes.

Several of the families of Towhee members have camped in various places during vacations. The Norman Watsons went to the Oakland Camp. One evening while playing volley ball, they discovered that among their opponents from the Berkeley Camp were the Bob Cuenins.

Ellen and Sam Bradbard and family camped in the Redwoods spent their vacation at "Mi-Week Village" above Sonora and the and the Bill McLarens fished near Markleeville. The Larry Dodges Ernest Jaegers enjoyed roughing it at Fallen Leaf Lake.

Kay and Bud Wanous combined business with pleasure in an extended trip during which they "took in" Waterton National Park in Canada, the Grand Tetons and Yellowstone.

Sue Bradbard, the Sam Bradbard's 12 year old daughter, made 10 of her friends very happy with a lovely luncheon-swim party the other day at Meadowbrook Country Club.

The Butlers have a party . . .

The Girrhill Butlers entertained 60 members of Gorrhill's family with a picnic-swim party on a recent Sunday. Among their guests were the Jack Kramers of Happy Valley and the Dick Moulds of Danville. Last Thursday was the day when Mary Lewicki of Pleasant Hill was surprised with a baby shower.

Mrs. Robert Carlson and Mrs. Gerald Ball were co-hostesses for the affair which was held in the latter's home. The luncheon table was decorated with a pink ceramic baby buggy filled with pink roses, and blue and white carnations. Guests included the Mmes. Bruce Lee, John Gillan, James Phelps, Charles Dennis, Charles Bowers, John Collins, William Plummer and Norman Alcorn.

Hostesses and guests alike were especially delighted for the guest of honor was completely surprised. The Frank Berry family was one of the very first to settle in Pleasant Hill over twelve years ago. Now they are moving to Los Angeles due to a business transfer. Entertaining the other day for Mrs. Berry was Kay Butler.

Attending the afternoon poolside party were Bobby Lee, Zera Harper, Bev Fehliman, Gerry Phillips, Eleanor Robinson, Mary Fran Gillan, Joanne Plummer, Elsie Carlson and Grace Phelps.

Tahitian Music is enchanting

It seems that the Sycamore Branch's (Children's Hospital) Polynesian "Hoolaulea" luau was even more terrific than expected and from the advance descriptions—that was a fete! Weather had worried the members all day—but around six the sun came out and the evening was just as balmy as the tropics would have it.

REV. WILFRED Hodgkin united Ann Rowland of Walnut Creek and William Needham of Lafayette in rites at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek. The couple plan to live in Alamo. Ted Gurney Photo.

The Tahitian music enchanted the guests as did all of the decor—among other things the little grass shack, tapa cloth table cloths, lush tropical foliage, fish nets, coral and shells, orchids and hibiscus and the outrigger canoes, filled with gardenias, which floated in the Frederick Merner's pear shaped pool. Hundreds of leis were presented to the guests by Sycamore members, all of whom wore tropical outfits as did most of the guests.

The entertaining singers and dancers drew raves as did the scrumptious luau. A cousin of Ed Rowland's, Lt. George Cooper, who had just spent five years in the Islands, remarked that this party was unbelievably authentic. Lt. and Mrs. Cooper of the Coast Guard have just moved to Pleasant Hill.

The branch chairman, Mrs. Phillip Holmes wore a brown and white sarong and Mrs. Robert Lee wore one in black and white. Mrs. Frances Smith chose one of many colors with coral being the predominating hue.

A few other couples enjoying this lovely affair were the "Bud" Bigelows (she in a stunning blue, printed Holeku), J. Wayland Barnettes, Keith Sleepers, Charles Coburns and Jack Rileys. Virginia and Bob Franklin have returned from a vacation in Victoria, B. C. Princess Margaret just happened to be there too.

Jay and Tom Bond took their children to Disneyland where they had a wonderful time. Claire and Lloyd Lawson divided their vacation between Lake Almanor and Mt. Lassen.

Last year I reported that Molly and Steve Szybalski were actually building (with the help of young sons?) their own cabin on Bear River. Molly reports that this year thep spent a "working vacation" and that the house is half done. Steve did manage to get in plenty of fishing and there were many meals of trout. YUM!

A lovely weekend for all . . .

Pat and Don White are on the second week of a month's stay at their fabulous beach house at Aptos. Dorothy and Art Lundblad and Dick and I spent last week-end with them and their children, Tom, Don, Mary and Jimmy. 'Twas overcast and cool so swimming was out and the men goolfed while we gals just relaxed. What steaks we out and the men golfed while we gals just relaxed. What steaks we Lodge" which is a dream. Celebrations were in order, for it was Dorothy's birthday and the White's neighbors—the Woody Lambs—anniversary.

Evie and Woody and their daughter, Freddie, and son, Peter, dined out but stopped by en route. Evie looked so tan and lovely in all brown and that daughter of theirs is strictly the MOST!

Football Prospects Good For Acalanes High School

With 12 players from last year's varsity returning to the squad, Acalanes High School's football team "ought to do all right this year," according to Coach Jack Carhart.

Outstanding among returning team members who last year helped Acalanes take third place in the league are fullback Mike Kritscher, tackle Jim Walker, and end Dewaine Stults.

"But there may be some dark horses who will give even those boys a fight for places on the squad," Carhart said. "It's too early to tell yet."

Physical examinations for boys who plan to turn out for football will be held between 10 a.m. and noon next Friday in the school nurse's office, and uniforms will be issued Saturday, August 30.

Practice sessions will start September 1, and the first intersquad game is set for September 11.

Acalanes' first game will be with Alhambra September 19.

Rigney Nominated By Ty Cobb For Manager of Year

The famed "Georgia Peach," Ty Cobb, said in an Associated Press interview that Bill Rigney, manager of the San Francisco Giants, should be manager of the year "no mater what happens to the Giants from now to the end of the season."

Speaking of the quiet Walnut Creek resident's coaching, Cobb said:

"He has been marvelous. Nobody expected the Giants to go as far as they did. But, they're bushed now; they're back is broken. They just haven't got it anymore."

Jr. Women's Barbecue is Tomorrow

Contra Costa Residents Taking Part In Telecast

The next time you watch the "Way of Life" telecast, you may see one of your neighbors on the screen. This new and interesting program has had many Contra Costa residents participating on the program, and many more working behind the scenes.

A pastor from Walnut Creek, the Rev. Gray Lambert, originated, coordinates, and directs this question and answer broadcast on the Bible.

HE FELT a need for a Bible teaching program via television, so he began the task of starting one — writing scripts, procuring background material, speaking, securing guests for the telecasts, mailing thousands of letters informing the public of it, speaking before groups, and trying to secure enough contributions to pay for television time.

He donated his savings and cashed his insurance policy to help pay for the first few programs.

David Flagg of Ardor Drive, Orinda, is the talented soloist donating his services each week.

Local guests on the program have included Milton Howe of Orinda and Sandra Barr of Walnut Creek, representing Young Life Clubs, and Mack Rabun of Concord. Mrs. Gordon Phillips of Pleasant Hill has played the organ.

OTHER CONTRA COSTA residents and Contra Costa groups are slated to appear in the near future.

Since a free Bible study course is offered to interested listeners, there is much clerical work to be done. Friends of the program from Concord to Alamo, and from Walnut Creek to Orinda stuff envelopes, mimeograph materials and address envelopes.

The friendly and dynamic Rev. Lambert has to devote much of his busy schedule driving long distances to homes of his helpers or addressing envelopes himself.

MacKenzie of Walnut Creek, public relations chairman; P. T. Muller of Pleasant Hill, hostess; and Mrs. C. E. Scharff of Lafayette, telephone committee chairman.

THE 1958 GOAL of Contra Costa County's United Crusade campaign has been set at $502,792. Jack Mullen, general campaign chairman, left, and Jack Pedder, look at quota figures and plan the campign which will begin next month.

Contractors Give Details On Contest, Capitol Trip

The General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County is sponsoring a contest to select a woman delegate to the Womens Housing Conference on Housing which will be held in Washington, D. C. October 14-16, it was announced today by Jack Eyman, Lafayette, president.

"The Conference is sponsored by the National Association of Home Builders, of which the contractors association is an affiliate, and the United Industry Committee for Housing, whose members are in the allied industries which provide the materials, equipment and services that go into homes," Eyman said.

THE WOMAN delegate to be selected through an essay contest on 'What I Want In My Home' will be given an opportunity to sit down with nationally known housing authorities to exchange ideas on the social, technical, economic and physical problems of housing," Eyman added.

The contest rules established by the Public Relations Committee, chaired by Freeman House, Walnut Creek, are as follows:

The contest is open to all women 18 years of age or older as of the date of submission.

Families of judges of the contest or of members of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County are not eligible.

All entries must be postmarked by midnight, Friday, September 19, and addressed to the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County, 3462 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Lafayette, California.

The theme of the contest is "What I Want in My New Home."

ENTRIES MUST be limited to 250 words and neatness is a factor to be considered by the judges.

All entries must be accompanied by a filled in copy of the Housing Survey Questionnaire. The questionnaire will be used for statistical purposes only and will bear no personal identification.

All entries and questionnaires will become the property of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County, Inc.

The decision of the judges is final.

Winners will be announced October 1.

IN THE EVENT that the first place winner declines or is for any reason unable to take the trip to Washington, D. C., the trip goes to the second place winner.

"The questionnaires, which are to accompany the essays submitted, will be available through members of the Contractors Association and at the Association office, 3462 Mt. Diablo Blvd., Lafayette, ATlantic 3-8251, within two weeks," Eyman stated.

"Contest judges will be announced shortly," Eyman concluded.

All 188 Members of Jacuzzi Clan Hold Family Reunion In Oakland

There were Jacuzzis almost as far as you could see Saturday at the Colombo Club in Oakland as the 188 members of the family held their first family reunion.

Included among members of the family from Lafayette was Candido Jacuzzi, one of the four survivors of the seven brothers who founded Jacuzzi Bros. of Richmond, the world's largest manufacturer of jet pumps and domestic water systems.

RANGING IN AGE from 71 years to two months, the Jacuzzis came from all parts of the United States, Canada and Mexico. The reunion group included 22 survivors in the first generation, 66 persons in the second generation and 100 in the third. Forty of the children were under six years of age.

The reunion started with a morning Mass at St. Joseph's Church in Berkeley, after which everyone adjourned to the Colombo Club for an afternoon of picture taking, introductions and entertainment for the kiddies. Dinner and a dance followed.

Because of the number of small children, the all-day affair presented some unique problems. Nurses, baby sitter, and door guards were hired to prevent any small ones from wandering away. In addition, cribs and playpens were set up.

ORIGINALLY from Udine province in Italy, the Jacuzzi family migrated to the United States from 1907 to 1921. The family first became known for brother Rachele Jacuzzi's invention of the "toothpick" wooden propeller during World War I and his subsequent development of the Jacuzzi monoplane.

It was Rachele's invention of the injector (jet) pump in 1926 that started the family's business success. Jacuzzi Bros. Inc. is family owned and family operated. Virtually all male members of the family hold jobs with the company.

CANDIDO JACUZZI, general manager and the youngest of the original brothers, recently revived the family's inventive reputation with the Jacuzzi Whirlpool Bath. Weighing 25 pounds, this is the only portable whirlpool therapy equipment that can be used in any bathtub or swimming pool.

The reason behind the invention was Candido's son. Kenny, a victim of rheumatoid arthritis since the age of 18 months. Kenny, now 17, acted as master of ceremonies at the reunion.

The arrival of the Jacuzzi family in California is a story in itself. From the time the first brothers arrived penniless from their farming home in Udine province in northern Italy, it took 14 years to get the entire family, including the parents, to this country. They came one and two at a time from 1907 to 1921. Money earned by each working brother during that time was used to sponsor the passage of other members of the family.

Jewel Honored At Buffet Dinner

A buffet dinner served in honor of Howard Jewel, Sixth Congressional District candidate, was most successful, according to Mrs. Eleanor Thompson, president of the Contra Costa County Democratic Womens Club, sponsors of the dinner.

Jewel and his wife were feted August 2 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chase in Walnut Creek.

Over 35 local couples were represented.

Dramateurs May Make Town Hall Permanent Home

It looks as if the Dramateurs, one of the Bay Area's oldest and most successful amateur theatrical groups, will find a permanent home in Lafayette.

Clarence Betz of Orinda, chairman of the Dramateurs' leasing committee, told The Sun that a long-time master lease on Lafayette Town Hall may be signed with the Lafayette Improvement Association by September.

HE REPORTED that a committee headed by Arthur Combs for the Lafayette Improvement Association has recommended that the lease be signed.

Originating in Orinda in prewar years, the Dramateurs originally staged performances for children in Orinda schools, and later, enlarging its scope, in Acalanes High School.

For the past three years, drawing both performers and audiences from the entire East Bay area, the group has staged its fall, winter and spring program in the Berkeley Little Theatre, the summer performances in Lafayette Town Hall.

SIGNING of a long-time lease on Town Hall would mean, Betz said, that all Dramateur performances would be staged in Lafayette, bringing this area live dramatic fare the year around.

However, Betz pointed out, Town Hall would still be available to community organizations.

"Obtaining a lease on Lafayette Town Hall and its use as a permanent home for Dramateurs would have several advantages," Betz declared.

Jr. College Has New Part-Time Student Classes

Five new classes have been added to the program for part-time students at Diablo Valley College, this fall, according to Verle C. Hemstrand, adminstrator of the program.

Prompted by new developments in electronics and the changing needs of bay area industries, a new course in research and development electronics will be offered on Friday nights.

It will be a study of circuts theory and techniques employed in the fields of research, development, and production of electronic equipment.

Other new classes are "Report Writing," to be taught on Tuesday nights by Milton Cohen, technical report writer for the International Engineering Company, San Francisco; "Consumer Problems," a study of family expenditures as they relate to family living with emphasis upon cooperative planning, budgeting, selection and purchasing, to be taught on Thursday evenings by Richard Courtney.

"Income Real Property Appraisal" to be taught on Thursday evenings by Albert J. Lagorio of the Contra Costa County Assessor's Office; and "Intermediate Electronics" to be taught on Thursdays by David Pugatch, Quality Control Manager and Junior project engineer for Donner Scientific Company.

Registration for clases in the program for part-time students will be conducted at Diablo Valley College September 5 from 7 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. for former students and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon September 6 for new students.

Information concerning classes offered, meeting times, registration, and other such items are included in a brochure entitled "Classes for Part-Time Students."

Annulment Ends Pair's Marriage

Emmarie Gibbs owner and editor of Contra Costa's new magazine, The Diablo View, received her decree of annulment from her husband of six months and former publisher, Alan Giellerup, in a closed hearing on August 11.

Miss Gibbs said she will continue to publish the magazine. The combined August-September issue will be on the newstands the first week in September, she added.

Population Survey Shows County Not Keeping Up

Contra Costa County, which stood fifth in population in California on the basis of the 1950 census, has dropped to tenth place on the basis of the State Department of Finance's formula for allocation of state funds.

And San Francisco, which was second in 1950, has fallen off to fourth, being surpassed now by Los Angeles, San Diego and Alameda counties, in that order. Alameda also slipped one notch in the ratings.

In the eight years since the decennial census was taken, Orange, Santa Clara, San Bernardino, Sacramento and San Mateo have crept ahead of Contra Costa in population.

THE FINANCE Department's report of July 1, 1958, gives Contra Costa a population figure of 370,400, an increase of 71,400 from the 1950 census. The percentage gain is 23.9.

The same report credits Los Angeles with 5,791,900; San Diego, 943,400; Alameda, 886,800; San Francisco, 791,000; Orange, 596,800; Santa Clara, 574,800; San Bernardino, 470,500; Sacramento, 451,200 and San Mateo, 399,100.

Other counties in the first fifteen include Fresno with 344,400; Kern with 279,400; Riverside with 258,200; San Joaquin with 241,000 and Monterey with 192,200.

In per capita wealth, based upon population and 1958-59 assessed valuation figures, Contra Costa continued to hold its lead among the first ten counties. Its per capita valuation of $2001 compared with $1809 for Los Angeles, $1752 for Orange; $1726 for San Francisco; $1674 for Santa Clara; $1686 for San Mateo; $1596 for San Bernardino; $1465 for Alameda; $1266 for San Diego and $1164 for Sacramento.

THE STATE'S average per capita wealth, according to Iona M. Booth. General Manager of the Contra Costa Deveolpment Association, was $1760, based upon a population figure of 14,752,000 from the State Department of Finance, and a total assessed valuation of $25,963,733,083 in a report from the State Board of Equalization.

She pointed out that Contra Costa's high per capita figure for assessed valuation reflects the county's heavy industrialization, with 27 of its more than 300 industries being assessed at more than $1,000,000 each, and all of them, in the aggregate, contributing approximately one half of the total on the county roll.

The State Finance Department's population estimates are based upon birth over deaths and immigration into California.

Camping Out Better Remember Permits

Thinking of camping out while hunting this fall?

Don't forget your campfire permit.

A CAMPFIRE permit is required for the use of any Coleman-type stove or open campfire on all National Forest lands within the state.

You may secure U.S. Forest Service campfire permits by applying in person at any U.S. Forest Ranger Station and at most California Division of Forestry Forest Fire Stations.

In addition, permits can be obtained from some local sporting goods and hardware stores in many communities.

PERMITS ARE never issued by mail.

If you plan to camp within the National or State Parks, check with the Park Ranger for local regulations and permit stipulations.

If you plan to camp on private lands, the State requires (between April 15 and December 1) that you obtain written permission from the property owner to start a campfire on his property.

You must also obtain a written permit from one of the California Division of Forestry Fire Stations, depending upon where you camp.

It is a good idea, too, to check local country ordinances or fire district regulations which might require permits for campfires.

HOW YOU CAN SAVE $600.00 PER YEAR ON YOUR FAMILY BUDGET!

More and more Contra Costa families every day are joining Bill Williamson's MINIMAX Wholesale Buying Service, and saving $600.00 per year or more by buying food, drug items, and appliances at true wholesale prices.

Almost all family foods are included in the MINIMAX Wholesale Buying Service — nationally-famous brands like Del Monte peaches, Campbell's soups, Best Foods mayonnaise, and most of the other top national brand names.

The most popular drug items like Aspirin, razor blades, and top brands of toothpaste, hair spray, shampoo, lotions, and skin creams are also available through MINIMAX at wholesale prices.

The best-known names in refrigerators, ranges, automatic washers, and dishwashers are also available to MINIMAX members at a saving of as much as several hundred dollars on a big ticket appliance at wholesale prices.

The detailed savings your family can make through MINIMAX Wholesale Buying Service amount to $350.00 per year on foods, $100.00 a year on drug items and cosmetics, $100.00 a year on appliances, and $50.00 a year on mileage, or a total of $600.00 per year.

HOW A MINIMAX MEMBER SAVES $350 PER YEAR ON FOOD

Families who eat more than the bare essential foods find their MINIMAX savings often run $10.00 per week, but Williamson prefers to use the more conservative figure of a $7.00 per week saving. Bill Williamson has a top reputation for integrity and ability in selling food for the past 23 years in the Walnut Creek area.

Using Williamson's low average saving of $7.00 per week on food at wholesale MINIMAX prices, this amounts to more than $350.00 per year on top brands of frozen, canned, and packaged meats, vegetables, fruits, and desserts like ice cream.

HOW A MINIMAX MEMBER SAVES $250 PER YEAR ON OTHER ITEMS

The MINIMAX Superette has top brands of drug items for members at wholesale prices—a saving of from 10% to 25%. Williamson figures your total saving on drug items at wholesale prices is $100.00 per year.

On appliances he figures the average family invests $300.00 per year, and MINIMAX wholesale appliance prices save a family ⅓, or $100.00 per year.

Many housewives figure they save $50.00 a year on car mileage because they do not have to shop so often, and MINIMAX delivers large purchases to MINIMAX Wholesale Buying Service members.
